Japanese Planes Active Near The Border

Bombs Dropped Near Tongtowha

AIRCRAFT CARRIERS IN BIAS BAY

NEWS REACHED "THE DAILY PRESS" YESTERDAY AFTERNOON OF THE PRESENCE IN SOUTH CHINA WATERS, NOT FAR FROM HONG KONG, OF TWO JAPANESE AIRCRAFT CARRIERS AND FOUR MEN-O-WAR.

The exact nature of their activities here is not known, but the opinion is held in usually well-informed quarters that preparations are probably afoot for a thorough survey of the coast for the anticipated large-scale operations which may probably be launched if and when the position around Nanking and the north has been liquidated.

Considerable bombing of the Kowloon-Canton Railway was again carried out yesterday afternoon, five planes taking part. These machines, presumably took off from the carriers now anchored near Bias Bay.

The first reports reaching Hong Kong yesterday was to the effect that Fukut, a few miles from the frontier was bombed, but a later message denied this, stating that the planes merely flew over Fukut, turned north and then dropped bombs between Tongtowha and Kingtongwai. The extent of the damage done, if any, is not known.

A report received by the local office of the Chinese Maritime Customs stated that bombs were dropped about five miles from the Kong Kong frontier.

The fact that two aircraft carriers have arrived in the south and are stationed in close proximity to the coast may be taken to indicate that intensification of the bombing raids on the southern railways is contemplated.

Report On Mui Tsai In Colony

S.C.A. FIGURES

Unemployment In Territories

The report of the Secretary for Chinese Affairs for the year 1936 was tabled at the Legislative Council yesterday afternoon.

The report states that at the beginning of the year the number of registered mui tsais in the Colony was 1,928 but by the end of December this had been reduced by 344 to a total of 1,584. The main items in this reduction were marriage, permanent departure from the Colony, restoration to parents or relatives and securing independent employment.

Seventy-two persons were prosecuted under the Female Domestic Service Ordinance, the total number of charges preferred being 101. In all cases involving unregistered mui tsais, the girls were either restored to their relatives or placed in a suitable institution. The number of inmates of the Po Leung Kuk on January 1, 1936, was 59 and during the year 615 persons were admitted as against 369 in 1935.

AGRICULTURE IN TERRITORIES

Report For Southern District

Dealing with agriculture, the report on the New Territories southern district for last year, states:—

The district, as a whole, may claim to have enjoyed a fair measure of prosperity during the year in spite of the severe typhoon of August 18 which did considerable damage to the rice crops in Southern Lantau and to the salt pans in Tai O. Both rice, crops were good as also were the sweet potato and vegetable crops.

The firewood and beancurd industries also did well. Cattle, pigs and poultry, chiefly produced at Tsun Wan and Tai O, were reported very satisfactory. Prices generally were well sustained.

SHANGHAI RICE SHORTAGE PROBLEM SERIOUS

Hankow, Dec. 15: The rice shortage problem in Shanghai is becoming more serious as a result of the Japanese military refusing to let 20,000 piculs of rice stored south of Soochow Creek be removed into the Settlement and French Concession, according to a report received from foreign sources.

It is also stated that Chinese and foreign rice firms have concluded a contract for the purchase of 280,000 bags of rice from Indo-China which is due to arrive in Shanghai on December 20. Owing to various difficulties in obtaining special permits to import the rice, it is reported that no further purchases will be made for the time being.—Central News.

NEED FOR H.K. PRISON REFORM

Startling Facts Disclosed In Report

QUESTION OF FOOD COSTS

The need for wholesale prison reform in Hong Kong is emphasised by the report of the Overcrowding of Prisons Committee, which tabled at the Legislative Council yesterday afternoon. The report contains startling revelations.

In the case of overcrowding it is shown that at one time this year Stanley Gaol, which has accommodation for 1,500, was housing 1,154 prisoners, despite the fact that 300 cells were useless as they possessed no locks.

Particular attention is paid to the question of food costs, and the committee shows that not only do first class rations cost $13 per month per head, as compared with the normal average among the Chinese of $5 to $7 a month, but that for approximately 20 years the system of tendering by ration has been in existence in the Colony and that the tender has been obtained by a contractor under the sign of Hop Kee, whom the Committee endeavoured to discover, but found only an office in Connaught Road, attended by a clerk, who professed to know nothing about it.

THE ARCADIAN THOROUGHLY ENJOYABLE MUSICAL PLAY

BY "STALLS"

The congratulations of the theatre-loving public go to the Hong Kong Philharmonic Society on the great success they scored last night with "The Arcadians" which had its premiere at the Queen's Theatre. Here in Hong Kong it is rather the exception than the rule to have a packed house at any "first night" but the theatre last night was very nicely filled and judging by the enthusiastic way the audience received "The Arcadians," I make bold to predict "full houses" for the next three nights. I have been informed that on Friday night His Excellency the Governor and Lady Northcote, as well as His Excellency the General Officer Commanding and Com-modore E. B. Dicken will attend.

Primarily, I would commend to the public the spirit of this Society in presenting for its amusement such a musical, which for accuracy in production, labour in its setting, faithful rendering of its lyrics, and collaboration of its "ensemble" require that enthusiasm, enterprise and tact which Mr. W. Robertson, the Hon. Producer, brings in its production.

The orchestra, under the baton of its Hon. Conductor, Mr. L. A. Lafford, worthily stimulates the cast to their brightest efforts, and combined with the commendable labour of those "behind," leaves one assured that the Society has added another star to its already bright firmament.

LARGE SUM RAISED AT CHARITY BALL

International Medical Relief Function Brilliant Success

CHIEF JUSTICE'S SYMPATHETIC APPEAL FOR WORTHY CAUSE

Held in a gay and brilliant atmosphere, with gorgeous Chinese gowns and chic western evening dresses moving in continuous pageantry against a traditional male background of black and white, the Charity Ball sponsored by the International Medical Relief Committee, which took place in the Roof Garden of the Hong Kong Hotel last night, was in every way an unqualified success.

The Ball was held under the distinguished patronage of H.E. the Governor and Lady Northcote, and His Honour Sir Atholl MacGregor was President of the event. Many other well-known residents and other notables were present, the attendance being unprecedentedly large and all accommodation was taken up.

Music for dancing was rendered by the Hong Kong Hotel Dance Orchestra under the leadership of Art Carneiro, and the proceedings were made more interesting and enjoyable by several excellent cabaret numbers in which well-known local artists took part. The dinner was donated by an anonymous gentleman who, in spite of his modest reticence is known as one enjoying a wide popularity.

The speech was rendered into Chinese by the Hon. Sir Chou-sun Chow, who very kindly performed this duty for the Hon. Dr. R. H. Kotewall, the latter being unable, on account of indisposition, to act as Vice-President of the Ball.

$5,165 RAISED

A grand total of $5,165 was raised. Actually the sum was $5,115 but this was supplemented by $50 won in a sweepstake by Mr. R. Raymond who kindly returned the amount to the fund.

In the course of the evening, the President read the following telegram from the Chinese Medical Association of Shanghai: "Dr. Arthur Woo, Hong Kong—Best wishes for successful party for worthy cause—Greetings!"

LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL

HOUSING QUESTION TO BE PROBED

In reply to the motion by Sir Henry Pollock, K.C., regarding civil servants' housing problem in Hong Kong and requesting the appointment of a committee to go into the matter, the Hon. the Colonial Secretary, Mr. N. L. Smith, at yesterday's meeting of the Legislative Council, said the motion was acceptable to the Government and that the proposed committee would be appointed in due course under the chairmanship of the Financial Secretary.

His Excellency the Governor, Sir Geoffrey Northcote, presided and there was a full attendance of members.

SHING MUN DEFECT

The Hon. Mr. Lo Man-kam, pursuant to notice, asked the following question:—

Will Government make a statement to this Council in regard to the reported defect discovered in Shing Mun, and the position regarding thereto of the Hong Kong Government, the Consulting Engineers, and the Resident Engineer?

The Director of Public Works replied as follows:—

After the Jubilee Reservoir had filled certain movements in the rock fill and core wall of the Pineapple Pass Dam were observed.

The facts were communicated to the Consulting Engineers for their advice and Mr. Binnie, who was then on his way to Rangoon, decided to come on to Hong Kong and make a personal inspection.

Mr. Binnie visited the Colony and inspected the Works in October and before leaving presented a preliminary report asking for certain investigations to be carried out, on the receipt of the results of which, he would finally report what remedial measures, if any were necessary.

The Consulting Engineers are still available for consultation by Government and the Resident Engineer who is now out of Government service is directing investigations and will supervise free of charge, and remedial work which may be necessary.

Investigations cannot be completed until the water in the reservoir has reached a much lower level than at present.

The Hon. the Colonial Secretary moved:—

That the Reports of the Finance Committee (Nos. 8 and 9), dated 20th October, 1937, and 17th November, 1937, respectively be adopted. Carried.

BETTING TAX

The Hon. the Financial Secretary and Colonial Treasurer moved:—

Whereas under section 6 (1) of the Betting Duty Ordinance, 1931, as amended by the Betting Duty Amendment Ordinance, 1934, it is provided that on every bet made on any totalisator or pari-mutuel authorized by the said Ordinance there shall be charged a duty on a scale to be determined from time to time by resolution of the Legislative Council: And whereas such a scale was determined by resolution on the 13th September, 1934: And whereas it is expedient to revoke such resolution and to determine a new scale:

It is hereby Resolved that the Resolution of the 13th September, 1934, (which was published as Government Notification No. 697 in the "Gazette" of the 14th September, 1934) be revoked with effect from the 1st April, 1938 and that thereafter on every bet made on any totalisator or pari-mutuel authorized under the Betting Duty Ordinance, 1931, there shall be charged a duty of two per cent. of the amount paid, contributed or subscribed.

He said:—

I rise to move the resolution standing in my name varying the duty charged on bets made on totalisators or pari-mutuel under the Betting Duty Ordinance. At present there is a sliding scale of duty varying between 1 and 3 per cent according to the total amount of bets placed with the pari-mutuel during the accounting year. This scale was fixed by resolution of the Legislative Council of the 13th September, 1934. It has turned out, however, that it leads to certain practical difficulties in application. The club responsible for the running of the pari-mutuel is obliged under section 3 of the Betting Duty Ordinance, 1931, to distribute prizes not less than 90 per cent of the total bets after deduction of duty but owing to the operation of the sliding scale the net amount available for distribution

MAGISTRACIES REPORT

Increases In Cases

The report of the Hong Kong and Kowloon Magistracies for last year, tabled at the Legislative Council yesterday, states:—

In Hong Kong the number of cases was 37,044 as compared with 34,425 in 1935. Fines totalled $72,891.

In Kowloon the number of cases was 25,249 as compared with 22,302 in 1935. Fines totalled $38,711.

Compared with last year, both revenue and expenditure in Hong Kong show slight increases. In Kowloon, however, expenditure shows a great increase and revenue a marked drop; the former arises from an increase in personal emoluments.

There were increases of significance in the number of persons convicted compared with 1935: larceny in almost every form; trespass and damage on Crown Land; dangerous drug offences; tobacco and liquor offences; returning from banishment; hawkers' offences; and traffic offences—all kinds; those which show decreases are common assault; weights and measures offences (Hong Kong only); opium offences; breach of the peace; brothels and prostitution; obstruction; firecracker offences; and unlicensed and unmuzzled dogs.

An attempt was made to collect statistics of offenders previously convicted and of those who had been bound over and had their bonds enforced. The ratio of the former to the total number of persons convicted was 1.38 per cent. in 1936 compared with 1.83 per cent. in 1935; the ratio of the convicted whose bonds were enforced to those bound over was 8.7 per cent. as against 3.39 per cent. in 1935. This increase, however, means little more than an improved collection of statistics.

The figures for juvenile offenders show a decrease of both boys and girls in Hong Kong, but an immense increase in boys in Kowloon, and a small increase in girls. The decrease in Hong Kong is partly due to greater strictness in observing the age limit, disregarding the mistakes and lies of the offenders and their parents as to age; the increase in Kowloon is attributed mainly to more frequent Police raids, and partly to the Kowloon population. The penalty of caning evidently has not affected these figures, as only 9 were caned in Hong Kong as against 47 in Kowloon for all classes of offences.

Good work continued to be done by probation officers both in the courts and in the remand homes.

FORGED BANK NOTES

Charged with possession of 17 forged (Kwangtung Provincial Bank) $1 bank-notes, Cheung Yuk-fan, aged 28, was sentenced to two years' hard labour by the Chief Justice, Sir Atholl MacGregor, at Criminal Sessions yesterday, when the jury returned a verdict of guilty.

Accused pleaded not guilty, and the jury empanelled for the case were Messrs. C. E. da Rozario (foreman), G. S. Rodger, Tsai Salfan, F. F. Dunnott, H. O. Marcal, D. D. A. Alonso and Ng Chan-kwan.

Conducting the prosecution, the Assistant Attorney General, Mr. E. H. Williams, said that the accused was arrested when he was about to proceed to Canton. His rattle suitcase was searched and it was found to have a false bottom.

When searched by Detective-Sergeant E. S. Brookes, 17 forged notes were found in his breast pocket.

After witnesses had given evidence, accused made a statement, denying that he knew that the notes were forgeries.

THEFT OF MONEY

A remand of 48 hours was granted by Mr. K. Keen at the Kowloon Police Court yesterday on the application of Detective-Sergeant Forrest, in the case in which Kwok King, aged 20, formerly a servant employed by Li Lam-sin residing at No. 200 Reclamation Street, was charged with the theft of $1500 between August 23 and November 25. Leung Tsat, married woman, charged with receiving $500 was also remanded.

POLICE COURT CASES

Tam Pun, 47, unemployed, was fined a total of $450 or three months' hard labour by Mr. R. Edwards at the Central Magistracy yesterday on charges of preparing opium, possession of prepared opium, and keeping an opium divan at No. 29, Ship Street.

An application for the confiscation of 500 pills containing an admixture of dangerous drugs was made before Mr. R. A. D. Forrest. They were found unclaimed on the S.S. Fuk On at the Connaught Road Wharf on Tuesday. The application was granted.

Yielding to temptation and stealing a jewel box belonging to her mistress, Ho Yuk, aged 21, married woman, employed by Mrs. Pui Kit-wa of No. 83, Hill Road, second floor, was arrested and brought before Mr. R. A. D. Forrest at the Central Magistracy yesterday. Pleading guilty to the charge, she was sentenced to three months' hard labour. The box contained $200 in Hong Kong money, $10 in Chinese currency, a pair of gold ear-rings and an electric light deposit receipt. Defendant had taken it from under the complainant's bed and damped.

A life banishment with a long list of previous convictions behind him, Lal Wan, 38, broke away from police custody in Arbuthnot Road on Tuesday while being held on a committal warrant charging him with breach of the Deportation Order, and made a bid for freedom. He was chased, however, and re-arrested in Portland Street. Brought before Mr. R. Edwards at the Central Magistracy yesterday, he was sentenced to three months' hard labour.

POSSESSION OF MORPHINE

Found guilty of possession of eight ounces of diacetyl-morphine, sufficient to make 200,000 heroin pills, at No. 197 Wanchai Road, ground floor, on November 2, Lau Chuen, aged 42, unemployed seaman, was sentenced to three and a half years' hard labour when he stood trial before the Chief Justice, Sir Atholl MacGregor, at the Criminal Sessions yesterday.

Prisoner pleaded not guilty, and the jury empanelled for the case were Messrs. J. Wong Chang-ling (foreman), J. J. Whyte, Chung Pak-cheung, J. R. Gomes, Lee Fook-tong, B. O'Donnell Paterson and G. A. Cruz.

Opening for the Crown, Mr. E. H. Williams, Assistant Attorney General, stated that accused was arrested during a raid by Chinese Revenue Officers, headed by the Senior Revenue Officer, Mr. A. W. Grimmit, and the Government Monopoly Analyst, Mr. H. A. Taylor, at about 8.40 p.m. on November 2 last.

The drugs were found in the rear and front cubicles of the premises and, questioned by Mr. Grimmit, accused said that the drugs belonged to him and had nothing to do with his wife and children who were also on the premises.

However, at the Police Station, accused made a statement alleging that the drugs belonged to one, Wong Kong.

When charged at the Central Magistracy accused said: "I have been used by some person, because I did not know anything of this. I have so many people, old and young. I hope Your Worship will deal leniently. I have six children, also a grandfather, who who is 78 years old."

Defendant, in the dock said the premises belonged to Wong Kong, who had written to his wife and suggested that he and his wife should look after the flat. He found the packets on the premises but did not know what they were.

After he had returned from some tea he found the European officers in the flat and opened the packets. Had he known that they contained anything illegal, he would not have returned.

After a short retirement, the jury unanimously found defendant guilty.

Passing sentence, his Lordship said it was quite impossible to believe there was no one in Hong Kong who did not by now know of the attitude which the Government in this Colony had been forced to adopt towards this abominable trade. His Lordship added that he was quite satisfied that defendant had possession of the heroin in order to form it into pills to be sold for the consumption of the unhappy pill smokers in this Colony.

- 1 cup sugar
- 2 cups flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1 teaspoon each of nutmeg, allspice and cloves
- 1 cup orange juice
- 1 pkg. pitted dates
- 1 pound almonds (whole)
- 5 eggs
- 1 pound candied cherries (whole)
- 1 pound pecans (whole)
- 1 pound white raisins
- 1 pound puffed raisins
- 1 pound candied pineapple
- 1 pound citron
- 1 pound orange and lemon peel, mixed
- 1 small glass cherry or grape jelly

Drags fruit with the 1 cup flour, cream butter and sugar, add eggs and beat thoroughly. Add dry ingredients alternately with orange juice and jelly. Combine with fruit. Turn into a well greased tube pan or 3 loaf pans. Line bottom of pan with paper. Do not smooth batter. Garnish and bake 3 to 4 hours at moderate heat.

PLUM PUDDING

A hot pudding made with bottled plums will tempt tired appetites.

Ingredients:—1 lb. plain flour, one small teaspoonful baking powder, a pinch of salt, 4oz. shredded suet, water to mix, 1 lb. jar of plums, two tablespoonfuls of sugar if plums are unsweetened.

Sieve flour, salt, and baking powder together, add the suet, mix to a stiff paste with water. Roll out a two-thirds of the paste, and line a greased pudding basin. Fill with plums, add sugar if necessary, and pour over a little of the juice.

Damp the edges, and cover with a pastry lid. Cover with greased paper and steam for two hours. Turn out and serve with custard.

GOOSEBERRY MOULD

A quickly prepared sweet is gooseberry mould.

Ingredients:—1 bottle gooseberries, sweetened, 1 egg, 4oz. marine, 6oz. self-raising flour, 3oz. sugar, a pinch of salt, a little milk.

Sieve together the flour and salt, add the creamed sugar and margarine, stir in the beaten egg and milk to mix.

Put the gooseberries into a greased pudding basin, then add the sponge mixture. Cover with greaseproof paper, tie on a pudding cloth and steam for two hours.

MINCEMEAT ROLY-POLY

That last jar of mincemeat will come now as a treat if used to make mincemeat roly-poly.

Ingredients:—1 lb. self-raising flour, a pinch of salt, 3oz. shredded suet, 1 lb. mincemeat.

Mix flour, salt and suet together, add sufficient cold water to form a stiff dough. Roll out on a floured board, then spread liberally with the mincemeat, damp the edges and roll up tightly. Seal the ends.

Sprinkle a scalded pudding cloth with flour, or put on a piece of buttered paper, place the pudding in the cloth, and roll up tightly. Tie both ends with tape, fix a safety pin in the centre, then plunge into boiling water. Boil for 1½ hours.

MINCEMEAT FINGERS

With the remainder of the mincemeat in the jar, I suggest you make mincemeat fingers for tea.

Roll out some pastry, place in a shallow tin, spread with mincemeat, then place more pastry on top. Mark the fingers with a knife, but do not cut through the pastry until baked and cold. Bake in a quick oven.

GREENGAGE CHARLOTTE

Perhaps you have a bottle of greengages on the shelf. They'll help to make a tempting charlotte, and no one will know you're using up the stale bread.

Ingredients:—A small bottle or half a large bottle of greengages, 2oz. margarine, 2oz. shredded suet, 1 lb. breadcrumbs or soaked stale bread, 6oz. sugar if fruit is unsweetened.

SPONGE PUDDING

Sift together six ounces of flour, a heaped teaspoonful of baking powder, a pinch of salt, and two ounces of castor sugar. Melt two ounces of butter and beat into a gill of warm milk. Beat in two eggs. Pour the liquid into the flour, mix with a wooden spoon, and beat well together until smooth and light. Line a shallow tin with greased paper and pour in the mixture then bake at once in a fairly hot oven for about twenty-five minutes or until well risen and golden brown. Turn on to a hot dish. Have ready some hot jam, and pour this over just before serving.

THREAT OF HOSTILITIES IN SOUTH CHINA

Large Japanese Force Believed On Way Down For Operations

YANGTSE DRIVE BREATHES

Shanghai, Dec. 15.

The majority of observers are of the opinion that the next scene of the war will be South China, where a large-scale Japanese drive is expected to be launched in an effort to cut China's last remaining route to the sea.

This belief, it is pointed out, is strengthened by recent activities of Japanese naval craft and war planes in South China which point ominously to the fact that a determined drive is imminent as soon as the hands of the Japanese army and navy are freed with the completion of the occupation of Nanking.

Unconfirmed reports are current here to-day that 50,000 Japanese troops are being removed from Central China and are being transported to South China in preparation for a large-scale drive.

YANGTSE POSITION

Chinese sources believe a further Japanese drive up the Yangtze River Valley unlikely in the immediate future. They think that after occupying Nanking the Japanese troops in Central China will probably consolidate their positions and ferret out isolated groups of Chinese mobile units which have been reported actively harassing the Japanese lines of communication and garrisons.

With the Japanese campaign in the Central China region concluding its first stage following the occupation of Nanking, foreign observers are of the opinion that the Japanese will hold off for at least two weeks before attempting to continue military operations.

HANGCHOW FRONT

It is believed the resumption of the campaign will involve either a drive to Hankow or prolonged hostilities in South China. If the Japanese choose to attack Hankow, it is stated that probably they will do so both from the north and along the Yangtze.

The next large-scale campaign is expected by some to be in Kiangsu, Chekiang and Anhwei and will likely be directed towards Hangchow, which is the last remaining important city in the northern area under Chinese control.

That the Japanese are preparing for a drive towards this lakeside city is given weight by the fact that the Army's labour corps is reported to be busily repairing bridges along the railway leading to Hangchow.—Reuter.

SAFE PASSAGE ASSURED

Shanghai, Dec. 15.

Japanese mine sweepers are proceeding ahead of the Oahu and Ladybird to assure them of a safe passage. The ships travel only in the day time. Ten British merchantmen will join the Ladybird at a point above Nanking and go to Shanghai with her. Arthur Menken of Paramount News, A. T. Steele of Chicago Daily News, T. E. Durrin of the "New York Times," Yates McDaniel of the Associated Press and L. C. Smith of Reuters, who stayed at Nanking through the siege, all visited the Japanese gunboat Seta and tried to arrange safe transportation to Shanghai.—Reuter.

EYE-WITNESS TELLS OF SINKING

Panay Hit By Bomb Dropped From Great Height

Shanghai, Dec. 15.

The U.S.S. Panay was hit by a bomb dropped from a great height at 1.50 p.m. on December 12. She was abandoned at 2.05 p.m.

Before sinking the ship was machine-gunned by Japanese naval motorboats, the crews of which then boarded the sinking ship. They left before she sank.

When she sank her flag was still flying, and had been clearly visible throughout the whole proceedings, declares the first eye-witness story of the Yangtze outrage received by Reuter by radio to-day.

"TIMES" CORRESPONDENT

Shanghai, Dec. 15.

So far as can be ascertained, all the Panay victims have now been accounted for, including Mr. Malcolm MacDonald, the London "Times" correspondent, and former Hong Kong journalist, who got away with the first party.—Reuter.

PANAY VICTIMS

Survivors On Way To Shanghai

Shanghai, Dec. 14: The Italian Embassy states that there is no news concerning its Chinese Secretary, Albert Ros, who was believed to have been aboard the U.S.S. Panay. H.M.S. Bee and the Japanese gunboat Hozu are going to Shanghai tomorrow with more wounded persons and survivors, also dead. The U.S.S. Oahu may accompany them. The Japanese flying boats left for Shanghai from Hoshien at 3 p.m. without any of the wounded. The reason is not stated but it is presumed that transport by the warships must have been considered by the authorities on the spot to be safer and more convenient for the patients. First reports of the sinking of the Panay say that it took half an hour to go down.

TOKYO CELEBRATES

Japanese Occupation Of Nanking

Tokyo, Dec. 14.

Tokyo was transformed into a fairland last night as the city celebrated the Japanese occupation of Nanking. Some 200,000 participated in a lantern procession.

The paraders converged in front of the Imperial Palace where officials of the Imperial Household Department, waving lanterns, acknowledged the lusty "banzais."

Telegrams incessantly flowed in to the Imperial Household Department from various parts of Japan, offering felicitations to the Emperor.—Reuter.

ing of the Panay say that it took half an hour to go down.

Japanese planes made five attacks on her. It is learned that an American, Mr. A.L. Patterson previously reported to be among the Panay's passengers was not aboard at the time of the incident.—Reuter.

STRETCHER CASES

Shanghai, Dec. 15.

H.M.S. Bee completed the rescue operations at Hoshien yesterday except for two coffins, which are being put on board this morning.

As far as can be ascertained, all persons are now accounted for. It is revealed that Captain Carlsson of the Mel An, who was among the dead, was killed on the bridge of his vessel.

The eleven stretcher cases are: Mr. Emile Gassie, American Embassy Code Clerk.

Lieut.-Comdr. Hughes, Commander of the Panay.

Lieut. A. F. Anders, Executive Officer of the Panay, and the following who are believed to be members of the Panay crew: A. Kozak, E. W. G. Huftebus, P. D. Zeigler, C. S. Schroeder, R. D. Davies, E. J. Rice, J. H. Laing and Charles Brik.—Reuter.

BRITAIN MAY REINFORCE HER FAR EAST FLEET

London, Dec. 15.

It is expected that a day will be allotted in the House of Commons early next week to satisfy the Labour Party demand for a debate on the foreign situation, particularly with reference to recent events in China.

According to the "Daily Telegraph," diplomatic consideration is being given in London to the desirability of reinforcing British naval strength in Far Eastern waters, but it is not certain, however, that ships will be despatched at this stage.

Naval reinforcements up to the heaviest types of craft are available, but decision to despatch them will only be taken after the most careful consideration of all elements in the situation.—Reuter.

GERMANY AND THE LEAGUE

Berlin, Dec. 14.

Judging from the statement published by a German diplomatic and political correspondent, one of the main reasons why Germany has decided to leave the League of Nations is the allegedly futile way in which the Geneva institution handled the problem of the redistribution of the world's raw materials.

The September report of the League Committee on raw materials was primarily designed, says the statement, to take the wind out of the sails of all the disquieting Colonial demands.—Transocean News Service.

DUTCH CONSCRIPTION

The Hague, Dec. 14.

A large increase in the Netherlands conscript army was voted to-day by the Chamber, whereby the annual conscript contingent is raised from under 20,000 to 32,000 from the spring of 1939.

The period of training will be eleven, instead of eight and a half months.—Reuter.

CITY OF LONDON AIRPORT

London, Dec. 14.

Negotiations are well advanced for the establishment of the City of London Airport at Fairlop Plain, Essex. The City Lands Committee, having completed arrangements for Acquisition of the site from the commissioners of Crown Lands at a cost of £200,000, is requesting authority of the Court of Common Council to proceed with the construction. The Airport is estimated to cost £200,000.—British Wireless.

NUT and FRUIT LOAF

16 oz. fine wholemeal, 3 oz. sugar, 4 level teaspoonfuls of Royal Baking Powder, 3 oz. chopped walnuts, 3 oz. currants, 2 eggs, 1 pint milk, 3 oz. butter or margarine.

Mix all dry ingredients together. Add nuts and currants. Whisk eggs, add milk and stir into dry ingredients. Melt butter or margarine and stir into mixture. Pour into two or three greased tins. Bake in moderate oven for 50 minutes to 1½ hours, according to thickness of loaf.

This luscious Nut and Fruit Loaf will keep fresh and moist for days — if you make it with Royal Baking Powder. The recipe was especially planned for this high-quality baking powder. Use Royal in all your baking and you'll notice a finer, a more even texture and a more delicious flavour. Don't risk failure with an inferior baking powder.

Nationalist Attack On Almeria Imminent

Gibraltar, Dec. 14.

General Franco has closed all frontiers, it is believed, in preparation for a new offensive. No person is allowed to enter Spain for recreation purposes.

The Spanish frontier adjoining France was closed some days ago.—Reuter.

AT LA LINEA

Paris, Dec. 15: The Spanish-Portuguese frontier was closed at La Linea yesterday by the Nationalist authorities. The British authorities at Gibraltar have been informed of the step. According to reports from Gibraltar, this measure is in connection with preparations for an offensive against the harbour town of Almeria as well as on the Pozo Blanco and Aragon fronts. Mr. W. J. Murphy Dead

Mr. William Joseph—'Pat'—Murphy, for 50 years a well-known Fleet-street journalist, died at his home in New Park Court, Brixton-hill, S.W., aged 77.

As a Parliamentary journalist he reported Gladstone, Joseph Chamberlain and many other famous statesmen of the past.

One of his stories was of one occasion when he, as he claimed, caused the adjournment of the House of Lords. During the debate he feelingly said aloud, 'Adjourn.' The Lord Chancellor, thinking that the request had come from a member of the House, put the question, and the adjourn-

PUBLIC ENEMY'S WIFE

An entirely different and unusual type of G-Man picture is scheduled as the feature attraction at the King's Theatre beginning to-day, under the title of "Public Enemy's Wife," a Warner Bros. production in which Pat O'Brien, Margaret Lindsay, Robert Armstrong, Cesar Romero and Dick Foran have the leading roles.

The picture is said to be crammed with thrills, including the over-powering of guards on a train, and the escape of a gangster killer; the attempted murder of the bridegroom of the divorced wife of the killer; the kidnapping of the bride; a gun battle between G-Men and the criminal band in their hideouts; the seizure of a ship chartered by the gangster in which they plan to flee the country, taking the young bride and captured secret service operatives with them.

DELIGHTFUL PICTURE

Sylvia Sidney and Fredric March are co-starring again for the first time since their memorable "Merely We Go to Hell" in "Good Dame," the B. P. Schulberg-Paramount picture, which is showing to-day at the Majestic Theatre.

The results are happy. A breezy, fresh and well sustained comedy-drama stands ready for your stamp of approval. This shouldn't be long in coming, for the news of the arrival of these two screen favourites in a delightfully entertaining picture, should travel fast.

The supporting cast adds materially in making the picture likeable screen fare. Jack LaRue stands out in another of his realistic menace roles. Noel Francis, Kathleen Burke, Bradley Page, Russell Hopton and William Farnum also do their bits in grand style.

The story is a lively comedy-romance of the love of a "good" dame for a "bad" boy. It is spiced with sparkling dialogue and amusing situations which evoke constant laughter.

The estate of Mr. Irving Thalberg, who died last year and who left the bulk of his fortune to his wife, Mrs. Norma Shearer, has been proved at £893,802 gross and £448,800 net. This is half of what film circles anticipated.

There are three trust funds on behalf of Miss Norma Shearer and her children, Irving and Katharine (who receive £120,000 each).

Mr. Thalberg left £73,200 to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Thalberg, his sister, uncles and aunts. Irving Thalberg rose in a few years from being a 23 a week typist to the most highly-paid and successful producer in Hollywood. He died suddenly at the height of his fame, and since then Mrs. Shearer has been living in retirement.

ment was carried at a very early hour.

"I think I am the only journalist who has ever accomplished that, and needless to say, I was the hero of the Press Gallery that evening," he said afterwards.

MAURICE SINGER "ARCH-ROGUE"

Part In Alleged Share Fraud

References to Maurice Singer, "the arch-rogue of this fraud," were made by Mr. Gerald Howard prosecuting in a case of alleged share-pushing at the London Guildhall Police-court recently. Before the court on remand were Christopher Lawrence Allingham, 37, of St. Albans-trescent, Staines, Middlesex, Henry Raymond Brownlow, 86, of St. George's-road, S.W., and Ernest Osman Harborow, 57, of Hall Park-avenue, Westcliff-on-Sea. They were charged with conspiring together to cheat and defraud members of the public who might be induced to part with money and securities to B. M. Clarke and Co., Copthall-buildings, London, E.C.

Mr. Howard said that the defendants were charged together and with another man, Louis Crum, who was not before the court. B. M. Clarke and Co. was an old-established business, and in October, 1931, Harborow became sole proprietor. In 1935 he was in the greatest possible financial difficulties.

PERCENTAGE OF TAKINGS

At that time, said counsel, Harborow came in contact with a man named Clements and was introduced to Crum and the other defendants. He was to collaborate with them in attempting to sell Ordinary shares in Universal Carburator Ltd., and was to get a percentage of the takings.

Allingham and Brownlow were installed in an office at Copthall-buildings, and from September to December, 1935, together with Crum, they conducted a campaign on the usual lines of share-pushers. Up and down the country, by means of letters and telephone conversations they disposed of 13,000 shares.

The only asset Universal Carburator ever possessed, said Mr. Howard, was some rights in a vaporiser.

SENT TO IRELAND

Counsel said that one of the directors was a horse dealer. When things got a little difficult this director and a secretary were sent to Ireland by Maurice Singer, apparently to be out of the way.

He quoted from one of the letters sent to the public which said that the company was "engaged in a new industry which will, without, revolutionise the motor industry."

It was stated that a patent carburettor which would revolutionise the motor industry was being marketed and the British Government had placed an order which would absorb the whole of the output for six months. There was not a word of truth in it.

PRIME MINISTER-NATURALIST

Up to the age of 18 Mr. Chamberlain used to leave Highbury, his father's house near Birmingham, at 5.30 every morning in order to study birds and track down unknown calls to the bird in question. His favourite song-bird is the blackcap, which he strongly prefers to his second choice, the garden warbler.

Mr. Chamberlain is, or was, even keener on butterflies and moths than on birds.

BUTTERFLIES TOO

The Prime Minister's collection of butterflies began—like those of so many of us—at his preparatory school. Unlike those of so many of us, it continued until his marriage. Those who have youthful and exciting memories of hot summer nights with net and bull's eye lantern will be interested to know that Mr. Chamberlain, too, used to have a "sugaring" expedition.

"Sugaring" consists of painting patches of the bark of trees with a mixture of rum and sugar.

BISHOP E. D. SHAW

The death has occurred at Marlow Bucks, of the Right Rev. Edward Domett Shaw at the age of 77. He became the first Suffragan Bishop of Buckingham in 1914, and was from 1921 until his retirement last year Assistant-Bishop and Archdeacon of Oxford and Canon of Christ Church.

He married in 1891 Agnes, daughter of Alfred Gilbey, of Woodburn, Bucks, and leaves one son and six daughters. Three sons were killed during the war.

CRIPPLES HELP SAVE BOY

Relays To Pump Air Into "Iron Lung"

Crippled boys of the Lord Mayor Treloar's Hospital, Alton, Hampshire, helped to save the life of nine-year-old Eric Marchant, of Andover, when the mechanism for operating an "iron lung," in which he had been placed, broke down.

They took it in turn with doctors, porters, and the boy's father to work the pump and now, in the words of Sir Henry Gauvain, medical superintendent of the hospital, the boy "is improving enormously." Mr. W. E. C. Marchant, the boy's father, in an interview said: "Had it not been for the respirator I do not think my boy would have been alive to-day."

A short time ago the boy, normally a healthy lad, was stricken by infantile paralysis. He was taken to Alton. At first only his leg and arm muscles were paralysed, but the disease spread to his respiratory muscles and he could hardly breathe.

SEARCH IN LONDON

Four doctors and nurses kept him alive by administering oxygen, while search was made in London for a "drinker"—a cylindrical iron lung which forces the patient in it to breathe. By the time one was found and taken to Alton Eric had been unconscious for some hours. His heart was beating very faintly.

He was placed in the "iron lung," but the machine could not be started because the voltage was unsuitable.

"I secured relays of people to work the pump by hand," said Sir Henry. "We continued pumping by hand for nine hours. By that time the engineers here had the motor working properly and the machine functioned for six hours. Then it stopped again and we had to go back to the hand-pumping for nearly 18 hours."

"Then the engineers got the motor going again and it has been all right since."
"The firm which helped us in our search for an 'iron lung' has now lent us a new machine; Eric is in it now. We get him out for increasing periods daily now. Only his head is outside the 'lung.' He is going on well, but will need the machine another six weeks, perhaps longer."

Exploits Told In Court

"If you saw him on the pictures you would not believe it, but here he is—a little savage."

This was the description given by Mr. J. T. Coggins, solicitor for the N.S.P.C.C., in the children's court at Farnham, Surrey, of a handsome illegitimate boy aged four years and three months, who was described as out of control.

Some of the things he was stated to have done were:
Broken into three houses.
Smashed crockery and turned on the gas.

Told his grandparents with whom he lived what he thought of them with an extraordinary flow of language.
Dived out of a window five feet from the ground when the probation officer went to see him, and, went down a cesspool—but came up again.

FIRE IN THE PANTHEON

Fire broke out recently in the Pantheon, the burial place of France's famous sons. The flames were got under control in 45 minutes.

The fire is believed to have begun in the room containing a transformer used for the lighting of the dome. An inquiry has been opened into the cause of the fire.

The first children to be born in the new Fulham Maternity Home, which has just been opened, were twin boys born to Mrs. Eva Barratt, 27, of Fulham-road, S.W.

He added that the mother was only just over 15 when the boy was born.

The Bench decided to place the boy in the custody of the local authority pending arrangements for his future.

Strong Anglo-American Notes To Japan

Two Governments
Acting In
Close Co-operation

London, Dec. 14.
Britain is expected to send a strongly worded Note to Japan following the attacks on British ships in the Yangtse. It is believed approval will be given to the Note when the Cabinet meets tomorrow morning.

The Prime Minister and Mr. Anthony Eden have been in consultation to-night and it is understood that other Ministers are in close touch with every phase of the situation.

The Note will in all probability ask for compensation, demand that immediate effective steps be taken by the Japanese to prevent further occurrences of a similar kind and request general assurance of safety for British nationals, ships and other property.

It is understood the terms of the British Note may be on similar lines to that sent to Japan by the United States.

Reuter.

NO REFERENCE TO MIKADO

London, Dec. 14.
A note of protest, which is anticipated by Japan will be sent to Japan, against the attacks on British shipping at Nanking. It is expected that the Japanese will be asked to take the strictest precautions to ensure that there will be no recurrence of these incidents.

It is understood the note will not refer to the Emperor of Japan, but the question of compensation for damage and punishment of the offenders may be included in the protest.

Reuter.

CALM EXPECTANCY

Washington, Dec. 14.
With the presentation of the formal Note to Japan in regard to the Panay incident, the atmosphere here is one of calm expectancy.

Mr. Cordell Hull, the Secretary of State, called on President Roosevelt at the White House to inform him of the latest developments, and later received the press, but had virtually nothing to impart.

Asked about the London reports that the British and American governments were co-operating closely in matters arising from the Yangtse incidents, Mr. Cordell Hull replied that he had nothing new to say, but unofficially it was gathered that the two governments had maintained the closest contact since the bombings were first reported.

A QUANDARY

Japan's eagerness to apologise even before receiving the American note leaves the State Department in something of a quandary as it is not quite clear whether a further formal reply should be expected, or the apologies should be regarded as sufficient. Mr. Hull was closely questioned on this point, but he declined to commit himself.

Isolationist members of Congress seized on a passage in the note referring to the Sino-Japanese hostilities as a pretext for demanding the enforcement of the Neutrality Act, but scarcely a voice was raised against the President's action in handling the situation without reference to Congress as he is constitutionally empowered to do.

POINTS OF PROTEST

Washington, Dec. 14.
It is learned that the United States expects a formal expression of regret from Japan concerning the Panay incident, complete and comprehensive indemnification, and an assurance that definite and specific steps will be taken to ensure that American nationals, interests and property in China will not be subjected to attack or unlawful interference by Japan.

The note adds that in the present case the acts of Japanese armed forces are in complete disregard of American rights.

GRAVE DANGER IN FAR EAST SITUATION

Demand For Japanese
Emperor's Apology
Creates Difficulty

London, Dec. 15.
New grave danger for the situation in the Far East is believed to have arisen from the fact that the Japanese "Army and Navy will oppose to the utmost any action which might involve the person of the Emperor, in connection with the Yangtse incidents.

No word, it is stated, is mentioned in the Japanese press of the Anglo-American demands, which include the demand that the Emperor must apologise for the bombing of the British ships and the sinking of the U.S.S. Panay, and undertake to guarantee that adequate measures be taken to make a repetition of these incidents impossible.

The situation, it is stated, will undoubtedly take a turn for the worse, if the Anglo-American demands, that the incidents be officially brought to the attention of the Emperor, persist. In Japan, the person of the Emperor is regarded as sacred and must never be involved in any military or political disputes, and it would be a serious loss of prestige to Japan, if this principle factor of Japanese constitutional life were broken. The attitude of the Foreign Secretary, Mr. Anthony Eden, in refusing to inform the House of Commons yesterday on the attitude taken by the British Government, is further regarded as ominous.

The London evening papers state that Japan has made no less than 12 different apologies in connection with the Yangtse incidents, which are printed in the papers to indicate that Japan now fully realises the seriousness of her actions. The apologies in themselves, it is stated, do not mean much and do not suffice to give satisfaction either to America nor to Britain.

Tokyo, December 15.
A message from Peiping states that the so-called "Provisional Government of the Republic of China" was inaugurated in the Chuantang Hall in the Forbidden City of Peiping yesterday with the old five-barred red, yellow, blue, white and black flag re-placing the Kuomintang emblem.

Cautious Chinese citizens had apparently carefully stored the five-colour flags abandoned by the Nanking Government as the national flag a decade ago because the old flags were in evidence everywhere.

Following the inauguration ceremony the Legislative, Executive and Judicial Commissions took up their business. Mr. Tang Erho, chairman of the Legislative Commission in an interview with Chinese and Japanese newspapermen said the "Provisional Government" must first maintain peace and order at home, and "then take thorough-going measures for ensuring a full understanding between the Chinese and Japanese people."

Strong Anglo-American Notes To Japan

Two Governments
Acting In
Close Co-operation

London, Dec. 14.
Britain is expected to send a strongly worded Note to Japan following the attacks on British ships in the Yangtze. It is believed approval will be given to the Note when the Cabinet meets tomorrow morning.

The Prime Minister and Mr.
Anthony Eden have been in consultation to-night and it is understood that other Ministers are in close touch with every phase of the situation.

The Note will in all probability ask for compensation, demand that immediate effective steps be taken by the Japanese to prevent further occurrences of a similar kind and request general assurance of safety for British national-als, ships and other property.

It is understood the terms of the British Note may be on similar lines to that sent to Japan by the United States.

Reuter.

NO REFERENCE TO MIKADO

London, Dec. 14.
A note of protest, which is anticipated by Japan will be sent to Japan, against the attacks on British shipping at Nanking. It is expected that the Japanese will be asked to take the strictest precautions to ensure that there will be no recurrence of these incidents.

It is understood the note will not refer to the Emperor of Japan, but the question of compensation for damage and punishment of the offenders may be included in the protest.

CALM EXPECTANCY

Washington, Dec. 14.
With the presentation of the formal Note to Japan in regard to the Panay incident, the atmosphere here is one of calm expec-

Mr. Cordell Hull, the Secretary of State, called on President Roosevelt at the White House to inform him of the latest developments, and later received the press, but had virtually nothing to impart.

Asked about the London reports that the British and American governments were co-operating

Yangtze incidents, Mr. Cordell
Hull replied that he had nothing new to say, but unofficially it was an assurance that definite, and specific steps will be taken to en-

POINTS OF PROTEST

cannot be ascertained until the end of the accounting year. In practice the Jockey Club, which is the only club actually affected, has been obliged to distribute rather less than the legal minimum and to retain the difference in a reserve account to meet possible liabilities for taxation. It is felt that this is an unsatisfactory system and after full discussion with the stewards of the Jockey Club and also with Fanling Hunt and Race Club it has been decided that it will be preferable to revert to the old system of a fixed rate of duty, which it is proposed to fix at 2 per cent, commencing from the 1st April, 1938.

HOUSING PROBLEM

The Hon. the Attorney General moved:—

That the amendment made by the Urban Council under section 4 (xv) of the Public Health (Sanitation) Ordinance, 1935, to the by-laws under the heading "Scavenging," on the 9th day of November, 1937, be approved. Carried.

The Hon. Sir Henry Pollock, K.C., moved:

Sir Henry Edward Pollock, Kt., K.C., to move the following resolution:—

That a Committee be appointed to consider and report to this Council upon the expenditure incurred in the housing of Government Civil Servants and also upon what would be the proper percentage of salary to be paid by various grades of Government Civil Servants as rent for the use of Government Quarters.

The Hon. the Colonial Secretary in reply said:—

The motion before the house is acceptable to the Government and a Committee with the terms of reference as suggested will be appointed in due course under the Chairmanship of the Honourable Financial Secretary. Certain preliminary enquiries are now being made regarding the practice in other Colonies in this respect and the Government proposes to defer the announcement of the remaining names until it is certain that the Committee can profitably begin its investigations.

FIRST READING

The following Bills were read a first time after being briefly introduced by the Hon. the Attorney General.

"A Bill to fix the rate at which the sterling salaries of public officers shall be paid in this Colony."

"A Bill to provide for changes in the style of public officers, offices and departments."

"A Bill to amend the Interpretation Ordinance, 1911."

"A Bill for promoting the revision of the Ordinances of Hong Kong."

COUNCIL ADJOURNED

In moving the first reading of "A Bill to provide for the incorporation of the Procurator in Hong Kong of the Irish Province of the Order of Franciscans Minor," the Hon. Mr. Leo D'Almada e Castro, Junior, said: The Irish Province of the Franciscan Mission, a section of the Franciscan Order, was founded in 1929. Among the objects of their foreign mission is the running of schools and hospitals. Their connection with China is only of two years' duration and they are already established in Hankow, Peiping, Tientsin and Shanghai. In Hong Kong they hope to have a school and hospital, but in the present unfortunate conditions they are unable to announce their arrangements in more definite terms.

Council adjourned until next Wednesday.

SELF-INFLICTED WOUNDS

Cause Death Of Chinese

A verdict that deceased had died of self-inflicted wounds whilst under the influence of liquor was returned by a jury comprising Messrs. P. H. Suckling (foreman), S. M. Gidley and W. L. L. Barker at the conclusion of the inquest held at the Central Magistracy on Ko Pak-yue, aged 41, salesman of the Fuk Cheong poultry dealers, who died on November 19 as the result of multiple stab wounds.

Mr. R. A. D. Forrest sat as Coroner and Detective-Inspector M. Murphy was present for the Police. Evidence was given yesterday by Wong San-yuk, wife of the deceased. She said that on the day of his death her husband had left their flat at 5 a.m. and returned about 10 a.m. from his work. He went to bed and she carried on with her washing in the kitchen. A little later she saw him drinking wine. Over an hour after that she went into the cubicle from the kitchen and saw him stabbing himself repeatedly in the stomach with a pair of scissors. She shouted for help, seized the pair of scissors and threw it into the passage-way. The police then arrived.

In answer to the Coroner, witness said deceased had drunk nearly the whole of a small jar of Chinese wine, which was more than he usually took at a time. It was a common thing for him to drink alone, and he used to get drunk quite often. So far as she knew he was in no money trouble. He had often talked about the recent state of affairs in the country and said it might be better to die. The jury then returned their verdict without retiring.

DEATH

HONG KONG, DECEMBER 16, 1937.

NAVAL SECRETY

The comments in the London "Daily Telegraph" and "Morning Post," by Mr. Hector Bywater, inspired by the launching of the Japanese cruiser, Tone, serve as a reminder of naval uncertainties, particularly in the Pacific. It might have been possible that but for the outbreak of the hostilities in China, the three chief naval powers might have attempted to come to some terms and so put an end to all this qualitative and quantitative naval competition. At the present time when the whole world is in a state of unrest, agreement of some sort is more necessary but the agreement must be of a concrete nature and not mere scraps of paper or idle promises which are renounced at will. As the position stands, it appears obvious that some considerable time must elapse before it becomes possible to resume the negotiations which ended so distastefully in London when Japan declined to accept the continued restrictions of the naval ratio. At this point it will be well to stress that an interim period of unlimited building may easily give rise to a position in which ultimate agreement will be rendered so difficult as to become impossible.

British and American building plans are well-known. There is no secrecy about them as regards tonnage, the type of ship being built and the armament of these ships. According to a statement made recently by the British Premier, there are now over half a million tons of warships on the stocks, while on behalf of the United States, the Secretary for Navy, Mr. Swanon, has emphasised their determination to match any Power ship for ship, an emphasis which is in no way enunciated by public statements by other leading figures in the Administration to the effect that the United States remains eager to conclude an agreement blocking the possibility of a race in naval building.

There has been no response from Japan to these appeals or warnings. In view of the Government's concentration on the more immediate crisis on the mainland of Asia, this is not surprising. It is, nevertheless, to be regretted that as the Washington Treaty of limitation recedes further into the background there is no indication that the discussions so abruptly broken off will be resuscitated.

The effect of the Japanese refusal of the continued restrictions of naval ratio is the creation of further uncertainty which can hardly have any result other than to increase the possibility of rivalry. All that is known of the Japanese programme is that the country is spending a large sum of money for the construction of new ships. Tonnage, gun calibres and other details remain a mystery.

Like the United States the British Government must be considering whether the London Naval Agreement is not a dangerous instrument, and whether it would not be better to scrap it. The decision is not one which might be come to lightly, but in the face of all that is going on in the world to-day, it may become necessary.

TONKINESE ARTS AND CRAFTS

Exhibition In Hong Kong Next Month

Under the auspices of the Residence Supérieure au Tonkin (Mr. Yves Chatel, Officier de la Légion d'Honneur, Resident Supérieur), an exhibition of Tonkinese arts and crafts and tourism will be opened to the public of this Colony from January 13 to 26, 1938, from 10 a.m. to 1. and from 3 to 6 at the French Bank Building, No. 5, Queen's Road Central.

The official opening will be made by Mr. F. Dupuy, Chevalier de la Légion d'Honneur, Consul de France, on January 13. Works of art, paintings, and sculptures by Tonkinese Artists will be on view. A various and interesting selection of Tonkinese handicrafts, tapestry, Chinaware, earthenware, crockery, ceramic, jewellery, cabinet-making, gold, silver, silk buttons, thread, silver and silk laces, silk tissues, etc. and varied and detailed information about tourism and the wonderful scenery of a trip through Tonkin, Laos, Annam, Yunnan, and the marvellous mountainous railway between Hanoi and Yunnanfou.

gerous instrument, and whether it would not be better to scrap it. The decision is not one which might be come to lightly, but in the face of all that is going on in the world to-day, it may become necessary.

CURRENCY SITUATION

A favourable view of the prospects for increasing monetary stability throughout the world is taken by "The Statist" in the Annual International Banking Section which accompanies a recent issue.

The de facto stabilisation of the sterling-dollar rate has provided the necessary rallying-point for the stability of other currencies, it says, and the forces making for wider stability have been greatly strengthened by the recovery of world prices, which even after the recent setback have reached a level at which the primary producing countries can meet their obligations and play their normal part in an international monetary system.

In the dictatorship countries, however, the developments which have been taking place and which are steadily acquiring momentum are fundamentally opposed to the ideal of stability based on co-operation. Economic isolation has become their conscious aim, and in a country that is economically isolated the idea of currency and exchange stability cannot have the meaning which it carries in a country working in an international economic system, buying and selling abroad, conducting capital transactions with other countries. Partly as a result of their growing economic difficulties the dictatorship countries are steadily exhausting their resources of gold, foreign exchange and foreign investments. The link of gold or exchange reserve which still ties them to an international system is being weakened. Already their exchange markets are wholly controlled, and with this control there is, of course, appearing an increasing intervention of the State in industrial, commercial and financial activities. One of the results of this artificial and rigid control has been the complete dissociation of the external and internal values of the currencies concerned. Whether or not this development represents some evolution towards a new system or is the result of mere day-to-day improvisation evolved to meet the steadily growing financial difficulties of these countries, it is evident that the contribution of this movement to what the modern world has come to regard as the cause of monetary stability is a wholly negative one.

Mr. George Lee who appeared with Major Bowes' Amateurs on tour in U.S.A. has consented to sing at the Hong Kong Hotel Roof Garden on Dec. 21 at an entertainment sponsored by the Chinese Youth Medical Relief Association.

PROPAGANDA AND PUBLIC HEALTH

Annual Medical Report

The Medical and Sanitary report for the year 1936 was tabled at the Legislative Council yesterday afternoon.

The report contains the following—

The total civil population of the Colony is estimated to exceed 900,000, of which some 400,000 reside in the City of Victoria, 300,000 in the town of Kowloon, over 100,000 on boats in the waters of the Colony and the remainder in villages.

Propaganda which does not arouse the interest of the mother and her children has little practical value. However, leaders of opinion in China and leaders of Chinese thought in Hong Kong are making vigorous efforts to promote public health and public welfare along lines which have proved successful in the Occident, and the outlook is far more hopeful than was the case a few years ago when Chinese thought on matters of health was unduly swayed by old traditions and theories.

So closely related are Hong Kong, Canton, Macao and the River Ports, in the matter of trade, and such is the amount of traffic, both human and goods, which passes between them, that up to date it has been found impossible to devise any system of quarantine which would effectually safeguard one city against introduction of disease from the other and at the same time preserve that freedom of commercial movements on which these cities depend for prosperity.

It has been deemed best to treat them as forming one unit, as suburbs the one of the other, and to strive for a working agreement between the various health organisations to the end that some means, other than imposing restrictions against a whole port, may be found to prevent the spread of infection.

POSSESSION OF FORGED NOTE

Arraigned before the Puisne Judge, Mr. Justice R.E. Lindsell, at Criminal Sessions yesterday, Nip Tung was found guilty of possession of a forged currency note and four charges of uttering same to shop keepers, in Tai Po Market on November 17. Accused was sentenced to two years' hard labour, and the jury empanelled for the case were Messrs. R.C. Sander (foreman), Wat Sun, Wong Kee Kwong, L.W. Wade, Yau Sie Lim, W.G. Robertson, and Lee Woon Foo.

BANISHEES IN COURT

Four banishees, Wong Ngan, Ho Sang-lu, Tam Yau and Li Sang, appeared before Mr. K. Keen at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday charged with breach of the Deportation Ordinance.

Inspector Moreton applied for a remand of 72 hours which was granted. Leung Kam, aged 17, who was similarly charged, was sentenced to two months' imprisonment. With two previous convictions against him, he was deported to Canton in September for a period of ten years.

HONG KONG RIFLE ASSOCIATION.

Good Scoring In Colonial Match Practice

Between 80 and 90 members of the Association took part in the mid-week Spoon and Practice Shoot held by the Hong Kong Rifle Association on the Army Ranges at Kowloon City yesterday afternoon.

Weather conditions were practically ideal, for the light was dull and steady throughout the shoot, while the wind was to all intents and purposes, non-existent. The result was fully reflected in the unusually high scoring, and as will be seen from the leading scores which are given below, C.P.O. Fellow, of the Naval Range Staff at Stonecutters, shot brilliantly throughout, dropping only one point at 300 yards, which fine score was followed up by a possible at 500 yards. At the longest distance 600 yards, he had the misfortune to start with three inners to count, after which he remained in the bull till the end of the shoot.

In the circular notice regarding the forthcoming Inter-Colonial Shoot, which has been distributed to members, units and clubs of the Association, it was stated that in the next fortnight more than one "dark horse" might be discovered, and it is not without significance that L/Cpl. Tonnar of the 1st Bn. The Seaforth Highlanders shot consistently well yesterday afternoon, returning the very fine aggregate of 95, including a score of 34 at 300 yards. Other scores of 90 and over were made by Cpl. Morris, R.M., Sgt. Mannell, and Marine Heather who are also members of this corps. Following them came L/Cpl. Downing of the Royal Engineers, and the well-known local shot, Capt. Ratcliffe of the 1st Bn. The Royal Ulster Rifles, each of whom scored a total of 90 points. All these scores were made with the "1914" rifles, which many members will be glad to learn, are once again obtainable by private purchase.

GOOD AUGURY

As regards the S.R. (a) class, Sgt. Bickell, R.M., took top place with a score of 84, a total which was equalled by Nk. Bachi Singh of the 1st Kumaon Rifles. These members were followed by L/Cpl. Langford of the 1st Bn. The Middlesex Regiment, P.O. Richards from Stonecutters and Pte. Rawling, also of the 1st Bn. The Middlesex Regiment, and as will

PANAY SURVIVORS IN SHANGHAI

Vivid Stories Of Bombing And Sinking Of Gunboat

JAPANESE PLANES FLEW LOW

Shanghai, December 15: Mr. James Marshall, of Collier's magazine, Mr. C. C. Vines, from Roanoke, Virginia, who is connected with the B.A.T. and Fireman John Hodge, survivors of the U.S.S. Panay disaster, arrived in Shanghai unexpectedly this evening from Wuhu aboard a Japanese seaplane. Mr. Marshall, interviewed by Reuters, said that the Panay opened fire on the Japanese planes when she was bombed and kept blazing until the last minute.

"The Japanese planes dropped twelve bombs around the Panay and Socony ships. The visibility was excellent and the planes flew so low that it was impossible for them not to have known that they were attacking foreign ships," said Mr. Marshall. "The first bomb hit the forecastle of the Panay and when she began to sink the captain gave orders to abandon the ship. All the passengers and crew jumped over the side. I went aboard the Socony steamer Melan and helped the unlucky Captain Carlson to pull up the anchor and get under way. I was aboard the Melan when I was struck in the shoulder by shrapnel," declared Mr. Marshall.

The condition of Mr. Marshall is not serious but he was sent to hospital suffering from exposure. Fireman Hodge, of the Panay, was picked up at Wuhu. Flag-Captain G. E. M. O'Donnell who was wounded in the leg in the attack on H.M.S. Ladybird on December 12 was also aboard the seaplane. He was picked up at Hohsten. It transpires that Capt. Hughes, of the Panay, was not on board the plane.

WIFE OVERJOYED

Mrs. Marshall who did not know that her husband was aboard the Japanese flying boat was overjoyed when Mr. Marshall unexpectedly walked in the Cathay Hotel.

Messrs. Marshall and Vines and Fireman Hodge stated that the Panay's machine-guns remained at their posts firing on the Japanese planes and Japanese launches until they were forced to flee for their lives from the sinking vessel.

Fireman Hodge, interviewed by Reuters' correspondent, stated: "When the bombing occurred I was off duty chatting with Capt. Carlson aboard the Melan which was tied alongside the Panay. A bomb struck and set afire the Melan. Capt. Carlson turned the wheel over to me and said, 'Beach the ship.' Then like a man inspired he joined the crew and fought the flames. After the Melan was beached, Mr. Marshall, Mr. Vines and myself started together through the countryside looking for help. Finally we were picked up by a Japanese Army truck and taken to Wuhu."

The Prime Minister's confident statement in Commons yesterday in which he rebuked the dismal prophets who talked as though another trade depression were approaching, adding assurance that Britain in any case was now in a far better position to meet any temporary decline than at any time since the war, is regarded as timely.

Justified by economic experts, Sir William Larke, Director of the British Iron and Steel Federation yesterday said that with full conviction and knowledge he could state there were no signs of any trade recession in Britain. TRADE MARK CASE RECALLED

The Eagle Brand Razor Blade Trade Mark Case was finally disposed of by Mr. R. A. D. Forrest at the Central Magistracy yesterday when he gave his decision not to review the case. This application had been made by Mr. D. B. Evans, representing Peterson and Co., the Leung Sang Kee Company and the Man Sheung Company, against whom judgment had been given in the case in which they had been summoned by the Hong Kong Import and Export Company for infringement of the Trade Mark Ordinance in that they had in their possession razor blades to which a false trade description had been given. Mr. M. A. da Silva appeared for the complainant firm. In giving his decision, His Worship said he had gone carefully over all the points of the defence. He did not think it was part of the prosecution's work to facilitate the defence to the extent of making clear at the beginning the lines it intended to take. Especially, they could not do that in the question of rebuttal of "mens rea." He was not now disposed to take further evidence because he held that that evidence was available at the time of the hearing and should have been brought. He therefore reaffirmed his original judgment. His Worship also made an order for the costs of the application for re-hearing and tax on the same scale as the original order for the costs of the original proceedings.

COMPENSATION FOR DAMAGE TO PROPERTY IN SHANGHAI

Commons Reminded Of Seriousness Of Matter

NEGOTIATIONS IN PROGRESS

London, Dec. 14: In the House of Commons to-day, Mr. Percy Harris enquired whether any specific date had been fixed by the Japanese Government for payment of compensation for damage done to British lives and property in Shanghai, Nanking and elsewhere in China.

The Foreign Secretary, Mr. Anthony Eden, replied that while no specific date had been fixed negotiations are now in progress for payments of claims arising out of recent events in China.

Mr. Harris asked if Mr. Eden could give some assurance that an early result was likely to accrue from these negotiations as this was a very serious matter particularly to people whose property was completely damaged.

Mr. Eden replied that he was conscious of the seriousness of the matter and that Mr. Harris would appreciate that the claims were in different categories, "but we are alive to the urgency of the matter."

Mr. Arthur Henderson asked if it included damage caused at the end of last week.

Mr. Eden: I think this relates to the situation in Shanghai.

Mr. Tom Williams, of the Opposition Labour, asked whether the dependents of those killed were being cared for by the Government pending settlement.

Replying, the Foreign Secretary replied in the affirmative and added this was the particular series of claims which came in the first category he had in mind.

Asked if he would lay summary cases before the House, Mr. Eden said he would consider that but information was being collected by the British authorities in Shanghai and he was not sure if they had the full list.—Reuters

NEED FOR H.K. PRISON REFORM

The absence of hard labour in the prisons is strongly condemned, as is the ever-growing number of hawkers which fill the prisons.

Recommendations include the establishment of an internment camp for hawkers and others who are not regarded as criminals, but merely nuisances, that the standard of discipline in the prisons be tightened, the system of feeding re-organised, and that prisoners where possible be made to earn their keep by performing an amount of labour at least commensurate with the cost of their food.

RECOMMENDATIONS

From the report:— We might summarise our conclusions in the following form. We consider that the moral, mental, physical, and economic conditions of the average Chinese prisoners in the prisons of Hong Kong differ so radically from those of the average prisoner in a prison in Great Britain that too rigid and literal an adherence to conditions and regulations applying at Home would defeat the object desired.

It is of course recognised by us that the dietary supplied should be sufficient to maintain the average prisoner in a decent state of health whilst undergoing the type of labour demanded by his sentence. It is necessary for him to have a sufficiency of rest and leisure, but it does not follow that his requirements correspond with those of an English prisoner in an English climate. For this reason we recommend that (a) the standard of discipline be tightened, (b) that the system of feeding be entirely reorganised, (c) that the prisoners where possible should be made to earn their keep by performing an amount of labour at least commensurate with the cost of their food, and (d) that an effort be made to separate hawkers, at least, and deal with them apart from criminal prisoners. We cannot at this stage deal with the entire lack of reformatory treatment in the Hong Kong Prisons.

Mr. Churn and I cannot conclude our report without an expression of deep regret of the death of Mr. T. A. Mitchell who was appointed a member of this Committee with us. Until his death he carried out with us most faithfully a very careful investigation, the results of which are shown in the records of the evidence taken. In addition, we had almost daily discussions on the various points as they arose. We are confident that in our conclusions we have not embodied any point with which he would not have been in entire agreement and we take this opportunity of recording our gratitude to him for the care, energy, and good sense which he applied to the investigation.

For the second time since the beginning of the war, the Vicar Apostolic of Hong Kong, Bishop Valorta, has addressed a special letter to the Catholics of his Vicariate on their duties in time of war.

The letter, which was issued in Chinese pays a tribute to the heroism of the Chinese soldiers who have fallen in the war and cites their example as an incentive to all citizens to do their duty to their country. The Bishop points out that loyalty to one's country is a Christian obligation, and he urges all to show it by helping in every way they can those who have suffered because of the war. PANAY SURVIVORS IN SHANGHAI

JAPANESE PLANES FLEW LOW

Shanghai, December 15: Mr. James Marshall, of Collier's magazine, Mr. C. C. Vines, from Roanoke, Virginia, who is connected with the B.A.T., and Fireman John Hodge, survivors of the U.S.S. Panay disaster, arrived in Shanghai unexpectedly this evening from Wuhu aboard a Japanese seaplane. Mr. Marshall, interviewed by Reuter, said that the Panay opened fire on the Japanese planes when she was bombed and kept blazing until the last minute.

"The Japanese planes dropped twelve bombs around the Panay and Socony ships. The visibility was excellent and the planes flew so low that it was impossible for them not to have known that they were attacking foreign ships," said Mr. Marshall. "The first bomb hit the forecastle of the Panay and when she began to sink the captain gave orders to abandon the ship. All the passengers and crew jumped over the side. I went aboard the Socony steamer Melan and helped the unlucky Captain Carlson to pull up the anchor and get under way. I was aboard the Melan when I was struck in the shoulder by shrapnel," declared Mr. Marshall.

The condition of Mr. Marshall is not serious but he was sent to hospital suffering from exposure.

PEAK SCHOOL PRIZE DAY

Satisfactory Standard
Of Work During The Year

The annual prize distribution of the Peak School took place yesterday afternoon at the Peak Club, there being a very large attendance of parents and friends. Mrs. N. L. Smith, wife of the Colonial Secretary, presented the prizes.

The Headmistress, Miss Newsholme, in her report for the year 1936-1937 said the school year began on September 14 with 59 names on the roll and ended on July 17 with 83 pupils. The attendance was quite well maintained throughout the year, and the health of the children, except for a few isolated cases, had been good. The school was inspected on several occasions by Mr. Ralston. The children worked well and a satisfactory standard of work had been shown. Excellent reports had been received of former pupils who had gained distinction in their studies locally and in England.

After expressing her thanks to the Staff for their ready co-operation, the Headmistress called upon Mrs. Smith to present the prizes.

In a short speech, Mrs. Smith said it gave her much pleasure to be present that afternoon, and to know that such good progress had been achieved during the year by the School. She enjoyed every moment of the excellent entertainment staged by the pupils, and said it was a great credit to those who had been responsible for training them.

H.K. AQUARIUM SOCIETY

ANNUAL MEETING
Finances Sound

The healthy state of finances despite lack of enthusiasm amongst members was stressed at the annual meeting of the Hong Kong Aquarium Society, held in Miss Daisy O'Keefe's Rooms of Dancing, Bank of East Asia Building, last night. Dr. G. A. C. Herklotz was in the chair, and was re-elected President.

Reading his report, Mr. E. B. Sugars, Hon. Secretary, said the Society had not attained the success expected. Certain Council members had been inactive and he had not had as much support as he might. The work had, in fact, been done by three men, the President, Mr. R. A. Pereira, the Hon. Secretary, and he himself. The support of members generally had been very disappointing. In some cases the only way to get them to attend meetings was by offering distribution of free fishes.

The membership was now 41 as compared with 37 last year. At the last Council Meeting, the monthly subscription was amended to $1, but members could pay $10 a year if they preferred. He expressed thanks to Miss Daisy O'Keefe for the use of her office during town meetings.

Mr. R. A. Pereira said the finances were sound. The Society started the year with a credit balance of $139.31.

TRIBUTE PAID

The Chairman said though the record for the year may sound a little disappointing at first, it must not be forgotten the Society was a young one and full results could not be expected in a few months. The financial aspect was good. He paid tribute to the great work done by Messrs. Sugars and Pereira.

In making suggestions for activities of the coming year, Dr. Herklotz said it might be a good idea to start a Natural History Society, in which the Aquarium Society would be a branch. He and Mr. Sugars thought much of the notion and he intended to give it every consideration on his return from leave next year. Another suggestion, made by Mr. Sugars, was to start a Chinese sub-section of the Society. These suggestions would be put forward for the Council to consider.

The following officers were then elected:—
President.—Dr. G. A. C. Herklotz; Vice-President.—B. E. Sugars; Hon. Secretary.—R. E. Slatery; Hon. Treasurer.—R. A. Pereira; Librarian.—H. Leuer.

FENCING

Danes Win 12 Of 16 Bouts

The women's fifth Anglo-Danish fencing match was won by Denmark at Bertrand's by 12-4. The match has always been won by the home country, and Denmark's success puts them 2-2 up on matches and 47-33 on bouts won in all five contests, which have been held bi-annually and alternately in the two countries.

Eight of the 16 fights were decided on the odd hit, so that the match was closer than the scores suggest.

Denmark won the first four bouts, three times on the odd touch. Then Miss Puddfoot scored England's first success by beating Froken Lacmann 5-3. Denmark took the next four fights to lead 8-1, thus requiring to win only one of the remaining seven bouts to take the match.

A MATRIMONIAL MIX-UP

Bride Married To 'Best Man'

This is the story of the Irish best man who married the bride by mistake, writes a Home correspondent.

All County Tyrone is laughing about it but although the bride was remarried to the bridegroom afterwards, the contretemps threatens to arouse keen controversy as to whether the bachelor best man is still a bachelor.

It all happened in the village of Killeter near Castleter, and those concerned were:

The bride, Miss Ruby Cunningham, aged 30, a farmer's daughter, of Garveta, Castleter;

The best man, Mr. Albert Muldoon, aged 21, a chauffeur, who had driven to the wedding at Killeter Presbyterian Church, the bride and—

The bridegroom, Mr. Christopher Craig, aged 30, a farmer's son, of Drumlinbar.

One of the things which led to the muddle was the fact that neither of the officiating ministers, the Rev. William Duncan and the Rev. J. H. Lyons, knew the parties by sight.

"HE NEVER SAID A WORD"

When we went to the Church the clergymen were waiting for us, and somehow I got into the bridegroom's place beside the bride," Mr. Muldoon told me.

"Mr. Duncan took me for the bridegroom and the wedding proceeded. I did not feel very comfortable, but I wasn't familiar with the procedure at the church and I thought it would turn out all right in the end.

"I made all the responses, but when I was asked, 'Do you take this woman to be your lawful wife,' I did not know what to do.

"I simply said I would. The bride didn't object and the bridegroom never said a word. I put the ring on the bride's finger.

"We all went into the vestry and Mr. Duncan began to take the names."

"He said to me, 'Are you Christopher Craig?' and I said I was not. He replied: 'I am, afraid, I

GOLFER AND HIS DISTINCTION

First To Lose Ball And Club!

A visitor from Melbourne, playing golf on the Royal Cumbernauld links hit the ball so vigorously that the head of his driver flew into the rough and could not be found. He consoled himself when he found that in spite of the mishap, he had made a perfect drive. The ball had sailed straight down the fairway.

His period of consolation was short, however. Before he could make his next shot a crow dropped out of the sky and disappeared with his ball. His only satisfaction now is that he is the first player in Cumbernauld to lose both ball and club at the one hole. It all happened on the thirteenth fairway!

CHRISTIAN CHURCH AND WAR

Chinese Preacher's Denunciation

The Rev. Goh Hood Keng spoke on the Christian church's view of war in a sermon at the Straits Chinese Methodist Church, Kampor Kapor, Singapore, recently.

The Christian Church was against war, he said.

War was the biggest question of the day, everybody was discussing it. Conference after conference was being held in an endeavour to find a way out. Another war like world war and there would not be very much left of the world, said the Rev. Hood Keng. The last was a mere skirmish compared with future world war, if it came.

War was not only costly but destructive but the will of God was mightier than all the armies ever marshalled.

As a substitute for war, Christ offered first truth, he said. Truth took care of itself and did not need a sword, and "you cannot get that kind of truth with bullet," the preacher declared.

No war could be carried on the basis of truth. There must be some amount of falsehood in order that war might be carried on.

"Truth comes to make man free," said Rev. Goh Hood Keng, "and truth is one of the factors that will eventually abolish war."

have made a mistake. I'll have to marry you all over again."

"There was a general laugh and I think we all enjoyed the joke, for that is how I regard it now."

"I thought perhaps the bridegroom might have objected but he stood and said nothing. He gave the ring to me coming into the church and when I put it on the bride's finger he made no comment and neither did the bride."

"SHOVEL AND RAKE" GOLFER

Montague To Play In British "Open"

John Montague, the "shovel and rake" golfer, will play in the British Open Championship next year.

This will be the first tournament in which Montague, most discussed golfer in the world, has ever appeared.

He revealed this at Fresh Meadows Country Club, Long Island, to play in his first four-ball charity exhibition game with Babe Ruth, former baseball star, Babe Dildrikson and Sylvia Annenburg.

"The best score I ever shot," he said, "was a 58 at Palm Springs. The par score for this course, which is of average length, is 68. During the past two years my average has stood at 63."

"And what do you think of your chances over here?" he was asked.

Mr. Montague became modest. "Ask my manager," he replied.

Manager Marty Forkins hurried to the phone.

"Well," he said, "in my opinion Mr. Montague is one of the world's greatest golfers, and I figure he stands a good chance of winning your championship."

"There'll be nothing freakish about my play," said Mr. Montague.

EXPENDITURE ON BRITISH REARMAMENT

RECORD HIGH TOTAL

Defence Minister Praises Co-operation of Manufacturers

London, Dec. 14.

Sir Thomas Inskip, Minister for the Co-operation of Defence, speaking in London said the rearmament programme would not slow down for four or five years. Expenditure on defence, which stood at £277,000,000 in 1913 to 1914 and in 1924 at £113,000,000, amounted to £278,000,000 in 1937. In 1938 to 1939 between £320,000,000 and £340,000,000 would be spent.

The Government depended on the ingenuity and skill of manufacturers for assistance. If it had not been for the highest degree of willingness on the part of manufacturers, the Government could not, even if it had had nationalised industry, have done one tenth of what had been possible.

Rearmament had not reached anything like a full momentum, which it might attain in about 18 months. There was no reason for the slightest lament of gloom or depression. Industry generally was developing at the same time. There were in various parts of the country new factories which as yet were only in the early stages of preparation and at which hundreds of thousands of men and possibly women would be employed. The industrial strength of the country was greater to-day. By means of the rearmament programme, a new army of confident workpeople had been trained.

Sir Thomas Inskip said he had unfailing optimism regarding the British race and the capacity of the Government to guide policy so that the great disaster of war would be avoided.—

DELBOS' VISIT TO YUGOSLAVIA

Friendly Discussions Lead To Trade Agreement

Belgrade Dec. 15: An official communique published here yesterday following the conference between the Yugoslav Premier, Dr. Milan Stoyadinovich, and the French Foreign Minister, M. Yvon Delbos, states that complete harmony of views prevailed and that the conversations were carried on in the traditional spirit of Franco-Yugoslav friendship.

Both Ministers agreed that the two states, both of whom are members of the League, can best further their individual interests and at the same time support the cause of international peace by continuing to co-operate in the same spirit of friendship that has hitherto prevailed.—

PREMIER OPTIMISTIC

London, Dec. 14.

The Prime Minister, replying in Commons to a request for a statement of the Government's policy to meet unemployment problems that threaten the country in view of the oncoming slump, said, "I do not accept the implication in the question. I consider any talk of an oncoming slump not only exaggerated but dangerous. This country is in a far better position to meet any temporary decline in trade than at any time since the War."

PHILIPPINE MINING NEWS

AURORA MINING COMPANY, is undertaking intensive exploration of its gold claims in Bokod, Benguet, with a view of having a more accurate preliminary evaluation of the claims under option to the company. Work has been concentrated on the six of the 25 veins already uncovered.

The copper claims of the company in Mangataram, Pangasinan, are being turned over to an operating company for development on a royalty basis, while the iron and manganese claims in Camarines Sur are under examination by mining engineers of an operating company that will take over the properties if found to have commercial value.

CORDILLERA EXPLORATION Mining Company, Inc., has installed a 20-ton mill at its Mapula, Bay Abra claims. It was reported that ores have been excavated from the tunnels and brought to the mill site for milling. This will be the first company to have a mill installed in the province of Abra.

The corporation is capitalized at P100,000. Of this amount P80,000 has been subscribed and fully paid up, the remaining P20,000 is being reserved for the claim owners. In view of the insufficient capital to carry on the development work, the board of directors contemplates increasing the capital from P100,000 to P500,000 in the future if there is a sufficient development work to warrant its recapitalization.

CHINA, JAPAN AND RUSSIA

Hankow, Dec. 15.

"China is willing to accept the assistance of the great Powers of the world, but Chinese resistance to the Japanese invaders will continue unrelentingly," declared the press director to the Chinese Government, Mr. Shao Li-tse, to the Transocean correspondent in an interview yesterday.

He emphasised that China would never surrender willingly one province nor renounce her sovereignty over any part of the country, because such actions would render all sacrifices of the past fruitless. Submission to the Japanese, it is stated, would mean the end of China, because this would signify the termination of Marshal Chiang Kai-shek's power and the beginning of a destructive civil war.

"China realises the strength of the Japanese military forces," asserted the director, "and is cognisant of the fact that her own forces in many respects are inadequate. For this reason the Chinese Ambassadors to the Great Powers have informed the Governments to which they are accredited that China will accept any form of assistance."

In reply to a question concerning China's attitude toward the Soviet Union, the speaker declared that assistance of a military nature is to be expected from Russia because Japanese penetration into North China constitutes a threat to the Union. For this reason, any action taken by Moscow would be principally for self-defence.

"China is not willing to purchase Russia's assistance at the price of adopting Communism," he declared, "since the Chinese Government through the years of long struggle against Communism has revealed its attitude in that respect."—

JAPANESE APOLOGY

Tokyo, Dec. 14.

The Japanese Foreign Minister Mr. Hirota handed to the American Ambassador to-day an official Note from the Japanese Government expressing profound regret for the sinking of the gunboat "Panay" and the three Standard Oil Company ships. The Japanese Government offers full indemnity for the loss of life and property incurred.

The Note also promised to call to account those responsible for the incident. Stringent measures have been taken to make impossible, in the future, any recurrence of such outrages.

In conclusion the Note expresses the hope that the friendly relations of the two countries will remain unclouded and begs the American Ambassador to transmit the message to Washington.—

NEWSPAPER MAN SUCCUMBS

Milan, Dec. 14.

Sandro Sandri, the special correspondent of the Italian newspaper, "Stampa," who was hit by a piece of shrapnel during the bombing of the American gunboat "Panay" by Japanese planes, has succumbed to his injuries.

Sandri was regarded as one of the most daring Italian journalists. He took part in the March on Rome and was Marshal Graziani's Press Chief in the Abyssinian conflict. He has also fought as an Italian volunteer in Spain.—

JAPANESE NOT TO INTERFERE

Medical Supplies Will Enter China

The large quantity of medical supplies en route to Shanghai from Australia, Germany and the United States, and which are sorely needed by the Chinese military authorities for wounded soldiers, as well as by civil authorities for use in refugee camps, will not be interfered with by the Japanese authorities. It was disclosed by Colonel de Watteville, China delegate of the International Red Cross headquarters in Geneva.

The Red Cross official is now in Japan, responding to an invitation from the Japanese Red Cross, and at the same time will make all final arrangements in connection with the transportation and delivery of foreign supplies in China. From Japan, Colonel de Watteville will go to Washington, the headquarters of the American Red Cross, and there submit his report on the organisation in China. He has already cabled Geneva, suggesting that he be replaced by someone who will continue to form a liaison between the various organisations in China.

RED CROSS PROBLEMS

Prior to his departure for Japan, Colonel de Watteville completed a tour of Red Cross and military hospitals behind the front lines, and he declared that the wounded soldiers of China are now receiving much better treatment, and that hospital conditions have been vastly improved. He also revealed that the greatest difficulty confronting the military and Red Cross hospitals in China is not the lack of funds, but the conversion of money into supplies, and the transportation of supplies to bases. With the closing of a non-interference agreement with the Japanese authorities, the Red Cross official expects that the problem will soon be erased.

A dearth of experienced surgeons is among other major problems of the Red Cross which Colonel de Watteville disclosed. In that connection, the International Red Cross in Shanghai has sent for ten trained surgeons from Vienna, and they are expected to arrive in Shanghai shortly, accompanied by their staff. While even this will not fill the requirements, the arrival of the surgeons will, in any case, greatly facilitate the work of the International Red Cross.

JAPAN APOLOGISES

London, Dec. 15.

The Japanese Ambassador called upon the Foreign Secretary, Mr. Anthony Eden, yesterday and tendered on behalf of the Japanese Government apologies for the attack on British warships in the Yangtze. A note has also been handed to the British Ambassador in Tokyo, in which the deep regret of the Japanese Government over the incident is expressed and the promise made not only to call those responsible for the bombing to account but to recognise and pay the necessary indemnity.—

PRESIDENTS' APPEAL

In an excellent and sympathetic speech, Sir Atholl said: And now I ask your indulgence for only a few minutes while I try to tell you a little of what the International Medical Relief Society stands for, what it has done, is doing and hopes to do in the future.

The Society was formed on September 24, and its declared objects are to assist and co-operate with other similar local organisations, to get funds, clothing and medical supplies in aid of the Chinese Red Cross, and to support at least one Red Cross unit for the duration of the present unfortunate hostilities.

The Society is truly international, for on its Committee, besides Chinese, are British, American, French, Italian and Portuguese.

What have we already done? Seventy tons of clothing have been collected and sent to China, as well as many hundreds of woollen jackets. Our helpers have made more than 80,000 bandages and hundreds of triangular bandages, gauze pads, gauze rolls and first aid kits. A sterilizer costing $700 has been sent to a Red Cross Unit in Shanghai and we have despatched to various centres nearly $10,000 worth of medical supplies, ether, iodine, antiseptic serum and drugs of all sorts.

RED CROSS UNIT

That grand work is still going on. Our helpers are busy every day making bandages and dressings, and to the very utmost of our financial ability we are purchasing or receiving from generous donors medical supplies of every kind, and sending them where they are so sorely needed.

An American surgeon, Dr. L.B. Grentree, volunteered his services to the Committee, and is now working in a Red Cross hospital in Shanghai.

To all who have so generously helped us by gifts of money or material we are wholeheartedly grateful, but the need is so urgent and so vast that if our work is to continue there must be more and yet more money.

I have already told you that one of our declared objects is to maintain at least one Red Cross Unit in the field.

To that we are committed, in that undertaking we must not fail, but one unit involves a monthly expenditure of $1,200, and who can say for how many months we are pledged to contribute that amount?

Every one of you may rest assured that every cent we get is wisely spent to the best advantage.

Cold, hunger, disease and suffering are widespread over China, that great country which is the motherland of so many of you.

CAUSE OF HUMANITY

It is for the relief of suffering and pain that I ask for money, not only from you who are "here to-night" but from all whom my words may reach. No sum is too great for our work; no contribution too small.

It is in the sacred cause of humanity that I make this appeal. I know that it will not fall on deaf ears.

As President of this pleasant function I wish you all a very sincere welcome, and thank you for your support. It is a matter of great gratification to those responsible for the arrangements this evening that every ticket has been sold, and in some cases at a price fixed for tickets. I am happy to announce, too, that a generous supporter, who wishes to remain anonymous, is paying the whole cost of this dinner, so that the financial success of the evening is assured.

FORGERY CASE

Judgment was delivered by Mr. R. Edwards at the Central Magistrate's Court yesterday in the case in which Cheng Ping-kwan, 24-year-old broker, was charged with obtaining money by means of forged documents from Mr. R. A. da Silva, Manager of the Colonial Trading Company.

In convicting defendant, His Worship said: "I have considered carefully the submissions of the defence in this case. The main facts are not in dispute. Defendant has admitted that the order forms were forged. He said he had no intention to defraud. It seems to me that the law of forgery is primarily to protect the sanctity of documents. In the case Rex versus Hill (here His

MUI TSAI
IN COLONY

LABOUR CONDITIONS

The report continues:—Once again labour conditions in the Colony have been quiet during the year under review. As compared with 1935 there has been a marked decrease in unemployment especially among skilled and semi-skilled workers. This is undoubtedly due to the expansion and increased activity of our local industries which was foreshadowed in the annual report for 1935.

The stabilisation of the local dollar at a comparatively low rate "vis a vis" sterling has been of great assistance to local industries and it is particularly gratifying to notice that heavy industries have had a fairly good year.

There is still a certain amount of unemployment in the ranks of unskilled labour but this may be expected to decrease in proportion to the improvement in world conditions which is sharply reflected by the Colony's export trade.

Unfortunately it has to be recorded that there is considerable unemployment in the New Territories though it would appear that this is largely attributable to a specific cause. Although practically all the New Territories villagers are small land owners, it has for a long time been customary for a large proportion of the male population to earn a livelihood at sea.

THE ARCADIAN

Among the cast it is truly difficult to individualise, but one must eulogise to the full the "Sombra" of Anne Winter, whose pleasing rendering of her arduous part leaves nothing to be desired. Harry Cockle in his dual role of Simplicitas and Smith, serves up, as to the manner born, and in combination with his opposite number, Willie Simpson as Peter Doodly, a wealth of humour, gives us a team guaranteed to keep the merriment in full swing.

Evelyn Fullerton as Mrs. Smith also contributes to the full to the humour of the many hilarious situations, whilst the charm of Doris Blair in her pleasing role of Eileen could easily overcome many harder citizens than Jack, well portrayed by Hector Wiggins.

The principals are fortunate inasmuch as they are excellently supported by a chorus of sprightliness and beauty, and it is now only left for me to recommend to our discerning public this really great effort of an amateur society.

Worship quoted from extracts) prisoner was found guilty in similar circumstances. I am bound to infer he had intention to defraud and find him guilty."

Mr. Hin-shing Lo, who had defended, accused, then made a plea for leniency, saying that defendant had a clean record and was a young fellow. He felt that the circumstances of the case were such that, though His Worship had ruled against him and found the defendant guilty, binding over would meet the ends of justice.

His Worship disagreed, holding that it was a reprehensible crime and he did not think it was a case for binding over. He imposed sentence of one month's imprisonment. Detective-Sergeant D. Davies prosecuted.

MAN SHOT BY
CONSTABLEResisted Arrest After Dispute Over Cent
Worth Of Cigarettes

"I heard a gun shot. Shortly after, I heard two more in quick succession," said Leung Ho, a shop fook, in the witness stand at yesterday's resumed inquest, held at the Kowloon Magistrate's, in connection with the death from gun wounds of a man named Ho Pan on November 13.

The deceased man was said to have struggled with a police officer while resisting arrest, and was alleged to have used a chopper on the constable in endeavouring to escape.

On November 13 a stranger went into a cigarette shop at No. 257, Canton Road to purchase one cent worth of cigarettes. He took four cigarettes as he tendered his copper but was told by the shopkeeper that he had taken two too many. A quarrel then followed and the man left the place dissatisfied. A short while after he returned with two men and created a disturbance in the cigarette shop. The husband of the shopkeeper arrived later and attempted to settle the dispute by agreeing to the man taking four cigarettes. This offer did not satisfy the three men, and a struggle ensued.

Police assistance was then summoned and deceased struggled with the constable and resisted arrest.

Leung Ho stated at yesterday's hearing that he saw the deceased struggle with the constable on the ground. Deceased broke away and rushed into the kitchen of the house, with the officer following in pursuit. Witness said that shortly after the constable had entered the kitchen he heard one shot and later two more in succession. The constable then came out, leaving the body of Ho Pan in the kitchen and summoned assistance.

Fung Wah-kee, master of a paper model shop, gave corroborative evidence. He added that he saw the constable's shirt being torn and that both the constable and his assistant were wounded in the hands.

After further evidence was given, the hearing was adjourned till Monday.

Appearing before Mr. K. M. A. Barnett at the Kowloon Police Court yesterday, Pang Luk-wu and Tsang Wah, who were charged with demanding, with menaces, a sum of $2,000 from Tam Kuk-ping, residing at No. 99, Prince Edward Road, were remanded till 2.30 p.m. on December 22.

Tsang Wah was also charged with fraudulent conversion of $90 entrusted to him by Yip Siu.
